Although this was trade work, there were a lot of experiences working with others that I had succumbed to. I was able to work alongside people who gave me rules and were able to teach and guide me.

McDonald's Northland Express (Assistant Store Manager) | February 2018 – Current

Over the years of working, I had been involved in writing accounting reports, looking after stock counts as well as the hiring and training side of the store. In doing so I had been able to gain 60% greater control of stock count and costs within the store.
